

Bloomsbury Clinical Research

Privacy Policy

At Bloomsbury Clinical Research, we are committed to protecting your privacy and handling personal data with transparency, integrity, and in accordance with UK GDPR requirements.

Information We Collect

We may collect personal information such as your name, email address, organisation, and any details you provide through contact forms or direct communication.

How We Use Your Information

Your information is used to:

- Respond to enquiries
- Provide our services
- Improve our website and communications

We do not sell or share personal data with third parties for marketing purposes.

Project-Specific Data Handling

For research projects and services, additional contractual and operational agreements apply. This includes, but is not limited to, the handling of clinical trial data and other sensitive information, which is managed in accordance with applicable regulatory and data protection requirements.

This will be specific to your territory as we operate globally.

Data Security

We implement appropriate technical and organisational measures to protect personal data against unauthorised access, disclosure, or misuse.

Your Rights

Under UK GDPR, you have the right to access, correct, or request deletion of your personal data, and to object to how it is processed.
